What is Wright Financial's Nature and Scope of Advice?

Wright Financial provides financial advice to its clients in the areas of Mortgage Lending, Life, Health and General Insurance, plus Investment Services. Its financial advisers provide financial advice on financial products in these areas.

When a Wright Financial, financial adviser provides you with financial advice, they will consider your current financial position, spending behaviours and tolerances to risk. They will complete the analysis and endeavour to report back to you, with their recommendations within the agreed timeframe.

The recommendation our financial advisers will provide, will be presented to you in plain English, based on the information gathered at the time. Giving you the ability to make an informed decision and maximise the use of any funds you have available to either invest for the future or your retirement, purchase property and pay off debt, as well as protecting what is most important to you, your life, health, personal assets, and wealth.

What is Wright Financial's Duties and Obligations of Information?

Wright Financial and their financial advisers who gives financial advice, have duties and obligations under the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 relating to the way that they give advice.

We are required to:

- Ensure you understand the nature and scope of service you ask me to provide.
- Provide an advice service that is relevant to this scope of service and suitable to your individual needs and circumstances.
- Listen to your needs, concerns and preferences and treat you fairly and with respect.
- Act with integrity, give priority to your interests by taking all reasonable steps to make sure our advice is not materially influenced by our own interests.
- Exercise care, diligence, and skill when providing you with advice.
- Ensure you understand my advice and recommendations and any associated risks.
- Keep you informed throughout the process, communicating in a timely, clear, and effective manner.
- Meet standards of competence, knowledge and skill set by the Code of Professional Conduct for Financial Advice Services (these are designed to make sure that we have the expertise needed to provide you with good advice).
- Meet standards of ethical behaviour, conduct and client care set by the Code of Professional Conduct for Financial Advice Services (these are designed to make sure we treat you as we should and give you suitable advice).

This is only a summary of the duties that we have. More information is available by contacting us or by visiting the Financial Markets Authority website at <https://www.fma.govt.nz>.

What is Wright Financial's Complaint Handling and Disputes Resolution process?

When we receive a complaint, we will consider it following our internal complaints process:

- We will consider your complaint and let you know how we intend to resolve it. Please be aware we may need to contact you to get further information about your complaint.
- You will be contacted either by phone or email within 48 hours a complaint being received. If we can't resolve this issue, we let you know we need more time to consider your complaint and how we propose to do so.

If we cannot resolve your complaint or you are not satisfied with the way we propose to do so, you can contact the Insurance & Financial Services Ombudsman (IFSO) Disputes Resolution Scheme. The IFSO Disputes Resolution Scheme provides a free, independent dispute resolution service that may help investigate or resolve your complaint.

Wright Financial generally does not charge fees for any mortgage advice or for the implementation of any mortgage products. Though we do reserve the right to charge fees in some lending situations, which will be disclosed up front at that time when the need is identified.

Wright Financial generally does not charge fees for any insurance advice or for the implementation of any insurance products. Though we do reserve the right to charge a fee for insurance advice when clients seek advice alone, which will be disclosed upfront at the time when the need is identified.

Wright Financial may charge a fee for investment plans and the implementation of an investment portfolio or may charge a fee on advice provided to a client where the hours worked exceed the estimate time included in the scope of service.

How does Wright Financial manage Conflicts of Interest and Incentives?

For life, health and general insurance, Wright Financial advisers receive commission from the insurance company selected as your new insurance provider once your policy is issued. The amount of commission the financial adviser receives is based on the annual premium calculated by the insurer.

For mortgage lending and loans, Wright Financial advisers receive commission from the bank or lender selected as your new loan or mortgage provider after settlement. The amount of commission the financial adviser receives is based on the settlement figure of the loan or mortgage.

To ensure that our financial advisers prioritise their client's interests above their own, we follow an internationally recognised six step advice process that ensures our recommendations are made based on the client's personal goals, objectives and circumstances.

Our financial advisers also undergo regular training on managing conflicts of interest and maintain a register of any conflicts of interest they identify, along with records of any gifts or incentives they may or have received as a result of placing business with any particular provider. Wright Financial monitors these registers and provides additional training where necessary. Wright Financial performs an annual review of our compliance programme.

What are Wright Financial's Advisers paid for arranging the Finance?

The following lenders pay our financial advisers the following commission percentages, which is based on the loan amount settled at the time. Your financial adviser will explain exactly how much this in dollar terms once they have identified the lender that best suits your needs and circumstances.

Upfront commission is paid approximately a week after settlement, with trail commission being paid monthly in arrears, based on the loan amount that is in place. Some lenders are flexible and enable the adviser to select the commission type, i.e., a financial adviser can select a smaller upfront amount 0.55% with a mix of trail 0.15% or select the larger upfront amount 0.85% with no trail.

Note: The commission these lenders pay our financial advisers does not cost our clients. These lenders have simply factored these commissions into their cost of doing business.
